

TUITION AND FEES 2007-2008

fall through summer

DOCTOR OF MINISTRY PROGRAM Preaching In the Practice of Ministry

Tuition rates for the Doctor of Ministry Program are established annually, subject to increase each spring at the time Iliff fees and tuition rates go into effect. For students entering the program between Fall 2007 through Summer 2008, tuition for the entire program is $10,000. This amount may be prorated over three years according to the following schedule:

- 40% ($4,000) paid in the first year at registration
- 30% ($3,000) paid in the second year, or at the time of registration for the 17th hour
- 30% ($3,000) paid in the third year, or at the time of registration for the 31st hour

Students may take up to six years to complete the program. However, students that have not completed the program within three years will be subject to an annual Program Extension Fee. This fee is payable at the beginning of each summer starting in the fourth year.

The Doctor of Ministry program offers no scholarships. It is expected that the student's congregation or denomination will pay a portion of his/her tuition. Arrangements for loans or other financial aid may be made through Iliff's financial aid office. There are no refunds except in extraordinary circumstances, which are decided on a case-by-case basis.

Iliff and University of Denver tuition waivers are not applicable to the Doctor of Ministry program.
