Iliff’s Master of Arts (MA) is a professional master’s degree that helps prepare you to educate others. The MA is the degree that supports advanced theological study in preparation for a doctoral degree or to enhance your teaching abilities.
The MA program is a 72 quarter credit hour degree intended for students with academic interests in theological and religious studies. It is an appropriate pre-doctoral program and provides a broad background in theological and religious studies, work in an area of concentration, and a thesis project. The curriculum includes study in an area of concentration, required courses to ensure breadth of religious and theological backgrounds, an MA colloquium, language study, and the development and writing of a thesis.

Iliff’s flexible curriculum focuses on the disciplinary nature of the Master of Arts degree, providing you maximum opportunity to focus on particular topics, including:

- Comparative Religious Traditions
- Sacred Texts
- Historical Development / Exploration of Religious Traditions
- Constructive Theology
- Ethics

As an accredited institution, financial aid is available to all who qualify.

The program culminates in a disciplinary thesis which is intended to be focused, article-length mastery of a particular topic/subject; ability to conduct academic research; depth and originality of thought; ability to articulate his or her research in appropriate academic discourse.
