I, _____ understand that I am not a student of Iliff, but am a student of my current school of record. Registration, fees, tuition, ADA accommodations, transcript requests, etc. will all be handled through my school of record, not through Iliff. I understand that this agreement can only be applied to the four United Methodist Church courses offered through Iliff. I understand that each course can only be taken for a letter grade and that “incompletes” are not allowed. I understand I will need to fill out a Course Provider Agreement for each UMC course I intend to take.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

For details, please see:

<http://www.iliff.edu/index/learn/degrees-certificates/umc-courses2/>

The recommended sequence for taking the United Methodist courses is:

1. United Methodist History
2. United Methodist Doctrine
3. United Methodist Polity for Leadership
4. Mission and Evangelism in Contemporary Context

United Methodist History (4 quarter hours / 3 semester hours) English Methodism to the death of John Wesley; the United Methodist tradition in North America; racial and ethnic diversity and the role of women in United Methodism. This course meets the disciplinary requirements for ordination. Offered each year.

United Methodist Doctrine (4 quarter hours / 3 semester hours) An exploration of the doctrinal heritage of United Methodism: its sources, distinctive marks, development in the United States, relation to contemporary doctrinal standards and practices of the UMC and role in ecumenical dialogue. This course meets the disciplinary requirements for ordination to elder or permanent deacon or diaconal ministry in the UMC. Offered each year.

United Methodist Polity for Leadership (4 quarter hours / 3 semester hours) Organization and methodology of The United Methodist Church. This course meets the disciplinary requirement for diaconal ministry or ordination to elder or permanent deacon in the UMC. Offered each year.

Mission and Evangelism in Contemporary Context (4 quarter hours / 3 semester hours) Biblical, historical, and theological understandings of evangelism are examined in light of the church's understanding of Christian mission and ministry. Offered each year.
